

Fille de Joie Erotica: Not all of our art is erotic..... but all of it comes from the heart

Art by sex workers ranges from the politically motivated to erotically inspired- and there is also the artistic side of us which expresses neither our desire to be free from laws which oppress us nor our erotic inner beings, but something more..... the beauty in the world as seen through our eyes. Former street prostitute Cathy Clay (California) expressed her vision of love in this watercolor image of an angel holding a child. She said that this vision gave her great comfort in the roughest of times when she detoxed from drug abuse.
